1. Introduction and Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to set guidelines to:

- › Provide every College community member with a respectful learning and working environment that demonstrates acceptable interpersonal conduct and is free from bullying, discrimination and harassment;
- › Provide information to ensure all College community members are aware of their rights and obligations under this policy;
- › Communicate that every College community member is expected to contribute to the development of a respectful environment by behaving in acceptable ways and discouraging offensive behaviour of others. Every person has the right and responsibility to communicate concerns and cooperate in efforts to resolve concerns; and
- › Establish procedures to ensure that complaints are dealt with in a fair and timely manner.

2. Application

This Policy applies to all members of the College community including all employees, governors, students, contractors, suppliers of services, individuals who are directly connected to any College initiatives, volunteers, and visitors. All college-sanctioned activities and functions are covered by this policy and extend beyond the physical boundaries of Loyalist College. Activities that take place under the auspices of Loyalist College such as placement, field trips, and social events are covered by this policy, regardless whether they take place on or off College premises.

Behaviours that constitute workplace violence are covered under the staff OH&S Policy 007 – Workplace Violence Prevention.

Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment, as they apply to all members of the College community, are covered under Loyalist College policy SS 612 Sexual Assault and Sexualized Violence.

Incidents where both the complainant and the respondent are students will be handled by Student Success with the involvement of Risk Assessment Review Committee where deemed necessary.

3. Definitions

Discrimination:

Every employee, student or person in receipt of services from the College has the right to equal treatment, without discrimination on the basis of any prohibited ground set out in the Ontario Human Rights Code. Discrimination includes but is not limited to, a differential act, system or behaviour which differentiates between individuals or groups, imposes a disadvantage or withholds an advantage on the basis of any protected ground.

Harassment:

Harassment is defined in the Ontario Human Rights Code and Occupational Health and Safety as engaging in a course of vexatious comment or conduct that is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome.

Harassment may or may not be related to a protected ground.

Harassing behaviour or comments have the effect of creating a humiliating, hostile, intimidating or offensive work and/or learning environment and have a negative impact on an individual's physical or psychological dignity and integrity. Psychological harassment and bullying are included in this definition of harassment.

An isolated comment or action may not necessarily constitute harassment as harassment is typically reflective of a pattern of behaviour. However, a single act or comment may be sufficiently severe enough that it does, in fact, constitute harassment in its own right.

Examples of harassment include but are not limited to:

- › Bullying
- › Continuous non-supportive and disrespectful classroom behaviours including body language, physical gestures and verbal communication
- › Undermining or deliberately impeding a person's ability to perform academic or employment tasks
- › Spreading malicious rumours, gossip or innuendo of any sort

- › Insulting language, unwelcome remarks, jokes, name calling, slurs, innuendoes or taunting based on a prohibited ground and/or that results in humiliation or degradation
- › Persistent, unwarranted criticism
- › Deliberate exclusion
- › Intimidation and coercion
- › Hurtful pranks
- › Abuse of power/authority amongst or between faculty, staff and students which negatively disrupts or prevents the performance of work or learning duties, or a pattern of requests to perform duties outside the scope of job requirements such as requests for personal errands
- › Physical gestures resulting in humiliation or degradation
- › Unwanted touching, patting, blocking movement
- › The display of offensive material either in hardcopy or electronic form which is intended to offend or humiliate an individual.
- › The use of any written or verbal, in person or via-email, electronic messaging system or other electronic/internet based process, or telephone to create, post, display, transmit or distribute messages or other materials resulting in humiliation or degradation (commonly known as cyber bullying).

Harassment does not include:

- › Reasonable action or conduct by an employer, supervisor, manager or faculty member to direct, delegate, guide, instruct, assess and/or manage the work or performance of employees, students or other college community members
- › Differences of opinion or minor disagreements between College community members
- › Behaviour and incidents that meet the definition of workplace violence (see OHS-007 Violence Prevention).

Poisoned Work or Learning Environment:

An environment where comments, behaviour or the display of offensive material has a negative impact on a person's or a group's ability to conduct their work, learning or business. The negative impact can result in a person being unable to progress normally in their work/learning/legitimate business. A poisoned work or learning environment may result from a pattern of events or a serious, single remark or action.

Protected Grounds:

Protected grounds mean the grounds set out in the Ontario Human Rights Code, including but not limited to:

- › race, ancestry, ethnicity or place of origin

- › citizenship
- › creed/religious beliefs
- › sex (including pregnancy)
- › sexual orientation
- › gender identity or gender expression
- › age
- › record of offences
- › family or marital status
- › receipt of public assistance
- › disability (physical or psychological)

Reprisals/Retaliation:

Adverse action against an individual for:

1. invoking this Policy;
2. participating or cooperating in an investigation under this Policy; or,
3. associating with someone who has invoked this Policy or participated in the Policy's process.

Reprisals and retaliation are prohibited and will be treated as a violation of the Policy.

- › Work and study in an environment that is free from personal harassment.
- › Utilize this policy and associated procedures as a means to address any complaints related to harassment and/or discrimination.

The College will restrict access to all information provided in the disclosure and processes related to a report and investigation of an incident of workplace violence or harassment with a legitimate need for such access, and will provide education and training to those who are regularly involved in receiving disclosures and the administration of reports. However, confidentiality cannot be assured in circumstances where:

- › The College's Violence Prevention Team process determines that risk to an individual or the College community exists
- › A report has been made and the respondent must be informed of the details of the report as part of the investigation and in keeping with procedural fairness, and/or
